

How to choose company?

- Long-term success requires massive growth
 - You're surrounded by people smarter than you
 - You have an opportunity to fail
 - The company has a history of giving massive responsibility to someone like you
- Avoid 'temporal discounting'
 - Loss aversion: people see the consequences and risks more clearly than the upside
 - Try taking on pain in the present to get more benefit in future
- Make a change wisely
 - Be careful of 'career flash mob'
 - Consult before changing your job, like your boss, HR, other trusted voice

The ROI of an MBA

- Not all need a postgraduate degree
- An MBA is for people
 - who are successful in their current jobs, and
 - who want to do more to change their industries
