

Agile in the large

Agile solves the problem for small software teams

- Agile is for small to medium-sized teams
- Agile was never intended for large teams
  - Large teams are a solved problem
- Agile is solving a software problem, for a small team
- Agile in the large is simply to organize your developers into small Agile teams, then use standard management and operations research techniques to manage those teams.

